

Plum Creek Alpaca Guided Tour

Saturday May 11th @ 10:30 am
10:15 - 10:25 am sign in
$12 for Members / $14 Guests

On 10 acres of grassland in Arizona's Prescott Valley, a herd of Huacaya alpacas peacefully graze and frolic in the sun. Brian and Valerie, the owners at Plum Creek Alpacas, preside over this pastoral scene, giving these fluffy animals their undivided love and one-on-one attention.

Visitors to their farm can share in this tranquil experience as they run their fingers through the animals' silky fiber and observe them playing and socializing with each other. Visitors are welcome to snap pictures and purchase their own piece of alpaca fiber to be saved as a keepsake or turned into a warm pair of winter socks.

Join us for an educational tour, from the livestock guard dogs to the alpacas, chickens, ducks, and turkeys. You will be able to feed some alpacas and they will try to catch a mom and cria (baby) for you to touch and feel. At the end of the tour, visit the gift store featuring products produced with Alpaca wool.

After the tour, join us for lunch at The Copper Pit located 5 miles S of Plum Creek Alpacas. Address will be supplied with registration/payment.

Plum Creek Alpacas is located at: 8260 E Plum Creek Way Prescott Valley 86315

Your event hosts will once again be Alpaca Shearers Joe&Hans who can be reached at Alpacawool@ComputerComprehension.com
